

Your Point of Access to Health Services

Mobile Health Teams offer protective, preventive, and therapeutic healthcare services to seasonal agricultural workers, rural residents, and disadvantaged groups who cannot easily access institutions for basic healthcare services, primarily represented by women and children.

WHAT MOBILE HEALTH SERVICES ARE AVAILABLE?

Immunization

Reproductive Health Services

Pregnancy, Postpartum, Infant Follow-up

Cancer Screening

Micro nutrient Supplements

Psychosocial Assessment

Medical Examination as and when necessary

OUTREACH

Teams consisting of social workers, psychologists, bilingual patient guides, and nurses/midwives visit neighborhoods and schools to improve health literacy and basic health knowledge among migrants, reduce health risks, and improve health-seeking behaviors.

5 MOBILE
CANCER SCREENING VEHICLES are the ground to deliver related services.

5 mobile cancer screening vehicles provide cancer screening services to migrants.

These vehicles are equipped with mammography devices, as well as sampling equipment for colon and cervical cancers.

The target groups include women aged 40 to 69 for breast cancer screening, women aged 30 to 65 for cervical cancer screening, and men and women aged 50 to 70 for colon cancer screening.

Supporting Migrant
Health Services in Turkey

SIHHAT Project contributes to efforts to increase health literacy and facilitate access to quality healthcare services among migrants through outreach and mobile health services.
